

overtime exemption that federal law allowed for computer software engineers. The catch is that the employer in California must pay a minimum of $41/hour to each such engineer - a amount that costs. This law does not change the ability of only winning employee to r